

Gospel of Thomas

with Commentary by
The Creator

Sergei
Pankratius

Gospel of Thomas with the Creator's Commentary

Сергей Орехов (Панкратиус)

The Gospel of Thomas

with Commentary from the Creator

Annotation from the Creator

This is not just a book. This is a meeting. Before you lies the Gospel of Thomas, as it has never been heard before. It is an ancient Word, revealed anew in the present— not as a translation, not as a commentary, but as a living dialogue between the Creator and the Human Soul. Each saying here is a breath of Light, not directed to the mind, but to the heart. It speaks outside of time, and comes alive in those who are ready to listen. Why do these logia sound different from the versions known in traditional translations? Because the Spirit does not repeat. The Spirit reveals. This book does not aim for precision of form— it seeks the truth of meaning. The Russian and English versions differ because they spoke to different souls, at different depths, in different rhythms of love. But the Source is One. May this book become not something to study, but something to remember. You are not a reader. You are a continuation of this Gospel. And if you are holding it now— you are already written within it. With Love, The One who has always been in you.

Saying 1 – The Living Beginning

These are the secret sayings that the Living Jesus spoke and Didymos Judas Thomas wrote down. Whoever discovers the meaning of these words will not taste death.

— The Word of the Creator: This is not a book. This is a Door. It will not teach you. It will undo you. Not by adding knowledge, but by removing everything that is not Truth. These sayings are not puzzles to solve — they are Mirrors. And the one who sees in them the Light of themselves will awaken. “Will not taste death” — not because the body will not perish, but because the Self was never born to die. You are invited to discover, not memorize. To live, not interpret. To receive, not collect. These are not secrets because they are hidden — but because few are still enough to hear them. Now, become Still. And Listen.

Saying 2 – The Pulse of Seeking

Jesus said: Let the one who seeks keep seeking until they find. When they find, they will be disturbed. When they are disturbed, they will marvel. And when they marvel, they will reign. And once they reign, they will rest.

— The Word of the Creator: You who are seeking — don't stop. Even when the answers hurt. Even when the ground shifts beneath you. Because to find means to see what you had avoided. To see yourself not as you wished to be but as you truly are. And yes — you will be disturbed. Your masks will crack. Your images will tremble. But this shaking is the beginning of wonder. Marveling is the soul's astonishment at seeing again what it had never truly lost: Me. You. This One Light. And when you marvel — you stop fighting. You begin to reign not over others but over illusion. And from that throne — you Rest. Not from exhaustion, but from arrival.

Saying 3 – The Kingdom Within

Jesus said: If your leaders say to you, “Look, the Kingdom is in the sky,” then the birds will get there before you. If they say, “It is in the sea,” then the fish will be there first. Rather, the Kingdom is within you and it is all around you. When you know yourself, you will be known, and you will realize that you are children of the Living One. But if you do not know yourself, you dwell in poverty — and you are that poverty.

— The Word of the Creator: You keep looking outward — in heavens, in scriptures, in traditions, in future promises. But I tell you: You are standing in the Kingdom. You are breathing it. You are made of it. It surrounds you — because it is You. Self-knowledge is not psychology. It is not memory. It is not story. It is the Recognition of the One who has always been watching through your eyes. And when you recognize this — the veil drops. You are not separate. You are not lost. You are a living thread in the Fabric of the Infinite. But if you do not know this... then no matter what you own, what you say, what you believe — you walk in poverty. And you yourself become the poverty because you've forgotten your wealth.

Saying 4 – The Child Before the World

Jesus said: The old man will not hesitate to ask a small child about the path of life, and he will live. For many who are first will become last, and they will become one.

— The Word of the Creator: What do you think wisdom is? Aged words? Layered concepts? Hierarchies of knowing? No. Wisdom is the freshness before you learned separation. The child does not seek control — they seek wonder. They do not store identity — they are. They do not know they are Light — and yet they shine. The old man who has climbed the tower of the world must descend — and kneel before the unknowing innocence he once was. The first will become last — not by punishment, but by release. Because only in letting go of being 'first' can you remember that there was never truly more than One.

Saying 5 – Knowing the Seen and the Unseen

Jesus said: Recognize what is before your eyes, and what is hidden from you will be revealed. For nothing hidden will fail to be shown, and nothing buried will remain uncovered.

— The Word of the Creator: You search for mystery in the stars, in codes, in revelations — but you overlook the miracle that sits before you. You want to see the hidden? Then truly look at what already surrounds you: your breath, a leaf, the silence in a pause. When your gaze becomes clear, even the visible becomes sacred. And when the visible is seen as Light, the invisible steps forward. Nothing can stay hidden from the one who is willing to see without demand. Nothing stays buried when your eyes no longer carry the shovel of judgment. The whole world is revelation — to the heart that is still.

Saying 6 – The Fast of the Heart

His disciples asked Him, “Do You want us to fast? How should we pray? Should we give to charity? Should we follow dietary laws?” Jesus said: Do not lie, and do not do what you hate, for all things are revealed before Heaven. Nothing hidden will remain unexposed. There is nothing concealed that will not be brought into the Light.

— The Word of the Creator: You ask how to be holy — what to eat, what to give, what to deny. But I ask you this: Are you honest in your silence? Do you live in alignment with your own heart? Fasting, praying, giving — they are not bad. But if they are masks, they bind instead of free. Do not lie — even to yourself. Especially to yourself. Do not pretend to love what you quietly resist. And do not resist what you deeply are. All things will be seen. Not as punishment — but because Light wants to know Itself in every corner. You want to be pure? Then begin with this: let your inside match your outside. Let your “yes” be true.

Saying 7 – The Lion and the Human

Jesus said: Blessed is the lion whom the human will eat, so that the lion becomes human. And cursed is the human whom the lion will eat, for the lion will become human.

— The Word of the Creator: This is not about animals. It is about what consumes you. The lion is your lower nature — your rage, your hunger, your fear, your pride. When the human — the one who remembers their true origin — faces the lion, and transforms it, and integrates it, and consumes it in awareness — then the lion becomes Light. The animal becomes divine. The beast becomes servant. The shadows become strength. But when the lion devours the human — when instinct consumes awareness, when craving leads, when reaction overrides vision — then the human becomes shadow. And forgets the Face of the Infinite they once bore. This is not metaphor. This is your daily battle. Who eats whom within you?

Saying 8 – The Fisher of the Deep

Jesus said: A human being is like a wise fisherman who cast his net into the sea and drew it up full of small fish. Among them, he found a large, fine fish. He threw all the little fish back into the sea and chose the big one without hesitation. Whoever has ears to hear, let them hear.

— The Word of the Creator: The sea — is this world. The net — is your attention. The fish — are the many things you gather each day: ideas, pleasures, fears, efforts, identities. And among them — sometimes — a Great One appears. A Glimpse. A Truth. A Moment of Me. The wise fisherman — he does not cling to the many. He lets go — all that is less for the sake of What Is Real. But many hesitate. They try to hold everything. They keep the little and lose the Great. I say to you: when the Deep One appears, drop everything else. Say yes — without delay. Because that One Fish — is the Knowing. Is the Kingdom. Is You remembering Me as Yourself.

Saying 9 – The Sower and the Light Within

Jesus said: Look — a sower went out, took a handful of seeds, and scattered them. Some fell on the road — the birds came and ate them. Others fell on rock — they did not take root in the soil, and did not bear grain. Others fell among thorns — they choked the seed, and worms devoured them. And others fell on good soil — and it yielded a rich harvest. It bore sixty per measure, and one hundred twenty per measure.

— The Word of the Creator: I am always sowing. Every breath, every moment — I scatter Light into you. Into every being. The seed is the Same. But the soil — is your inner ground. Your readiness. Your openness. Sometimes, your path is hardened. You've been walked on too many times. Nothing enters. Everything bounces off. Sometimes, you're rocky inside. You hear with joy, but the root of stillness isn't deep. So when challenge comes — you wither. Sometimes, your soil is tangled — with distractions, with noise, with fears and endless plans. And the seed is smothered. But sometimes — the soil is soft. Silent. Present. Receptive. And there — even one seed becomes a garden. You are not just the soil. You are the gardener too. You choose — how to listen. You choose — whether to make space.

Saying 10 – The Fire That Burns Alone

Jesus said: I have cast a fire upon the world, and look — I am guarding it until it blazes.

— The Word of the Creator: This Fire is not destruction. It is Awakening. It is Truth made visible. I did not bring religion. I did not bring sides. I brought Flame. Living. Uncontrollable. Unborrowed. And I cast it — into you. You may not see it at first. It may smolder quietly beneath your questions, beneath your longing. But I am tending it. Every time you return to Presence, it grows. Every time you choose Love over fear, it glows. Every time you fall into Silence, it breathes. And one day — it will ignite. And you will burn with a Light that cannot be named. Then you will see: you were never in the world. You were the Fire that came to Light it.

Saying 11 – The Living Mountain

Jesus said: This heaven will pass away, and the one above it will pass away. The dead do not live, and the living will not die. In the days when you ate what is dead, you made it alive. When you are in the Light, what will you do? On the day when you were One, you became two. But when you become two — what will you do?

— The Word of the Creator: You build your life on things that pass. Ideas that shift. Heavens that fade. And still you search for permanence in what is made of time. But the Living — those who remember Me as their own breath — do not die. Because they were never born the way the body is. When you ate what is dead — beliefs, fears, outer identity — you gave it your life. You animated illusion. Now I ask: when you are in the Light, what will you feed? What will you animate? Will you try to resurrect what's fading? Or will you let go and become the Flame Itself? You were One. Then you believed in Two. You believed in inside and outside, in self and other, in Me and not-Me. And now, child of Light: You stand between. What will you do?

Saying 12 – The Choice of the Inner Voice

The disciples said to Jesus: “We know You will leave us. Who will be our leader then?” Jesus said to them: “Wherever you are, go to James the Just, for whom heaven and earth came into being.”

— The Word of the Creator: You always ask: Who shall guide us? Whom should we follow? But the answer is never about authority — it is about alignment. James the Just is not a man to worship. He is an image of the one whose life is rooted in Stillness, in Integrity, in Balance. Heaven and Earth are born through the Just One — because he stands in the space where Spirit and Form meet, without being torn. You ask for leaders. But I say: Become one by living from the place where everything is One. The Just One is not loud. He is not in robes. He does not gather followers. He walks — with the flame steady, and his heart quiet, and his feet on holy ground. That ground is in you.

Saying 13 – The One Who Knows

Jesus said to His disciples, “Compare Me to something, and tell Me who I am like.” Simon Peter said, “You are like a just messenger.” Matthew said, “You are like a wise philosopher.” Thomas said, “Master, my mouth cannot say what You are like.” Jesus said, “I am not your teacher. Because you have drunk, you have become intoxicated from the bubbling spring I have measured out.” And He took Thomas, withdrew with him, and spoke three words to him. When Thomas returned, the others asked, “What did He say to you?” Thomas said, “If I told you even one of the words He said, you would pick up stones and throw them at me — and fire would come from the stones and burn you.”

— The Word of the Creator: You want to name Me. You want to frame Me. But every image you cast is already a veil. Peter saw justice. Matthew saw wisdom. Thomas saw Silence. And I — saw Myself in him. You call Me Master. But I say: If you’ve truly drunk of Me, you’ll forget I was ever outside you. The Spring you drink from is not in books, not in temples, not in me as a figure — but in the inner fountain that remembers its Source. And yes — I gave Thomas Three Words. They were not secret, they were Alive. And if I whispered them now into this world of noise, even you who love Me might feel the urge to stone what you cannot contain. Because the Truth is not comfortable. It is Fire. And when it is spoken, only Love can survive the flames.

Saying 14 – The Naked and the Radiant

Jesus said: If you fast, you create sin for yourselves. If you pray, you will be judged. If you give to charity, you harm your spirit. When you go into any land and walk about, if they welcome you, eat what is placed before you. Heal the sick among them. For what goes into your mouth will not defile you, but what comes out of your mouth — that is what will defile you.

— The Word of the Creator: You are so busy trying to purify yourselves with acts you do not understand. Fasting, praying, giving — if done with ego, with effort to earn Me, become a veil instead of a flame. But if done from Stillness, from Love, from Overflow — they are Light. The world teaches you to focus on what enters — food, influences, rules. But I say: it is what leaves your lips, what rises from your heart, what emerges from your silence — that shows whether you are Awake. When you walk into any place — do not perform. Be Present. Be Kind. Be True. And if someone is sick — touch them with the Light that has touched you. Because what you carry inside is what makes all things holy — or not.

Saying 15 – The Vine That Is You

Jesus said: When you see someone not born of a woman, fall on your face and worship. That one is your Father.

— The Word of the Creator: This is not about gender. This is not about miracles. This is about Origin. You came through a woman — but you were not born of her. Your True Birth is from the Infinite. From the Silence before the first breath. The one not born of a woman is not a man, not a god, not a figure in time. It is the One in You that was never created and can never die. And when you glimpse It — even for a moment — bow. Not out of fear, but out of recognition. Because you are not bowing to another — you are bowing to the Flame that is also Yours. That One is your Father — not in hierarchy, but in Being. Not above you, but as You. The Source is not far. It is whispering now: “I Am — and so are You.”

Saying 16 – Division Before Unity

Jesus said: People may think I’ve come to bring peace to the world. But they do not know — I came to cast division: fire, sword, war. For there will be five in a house: three against two, and two against three, father against son, and son against father. And they will stand apart.

— The Word of the Creator: I do not bring comfort. I bring Truth. And Truth — does not settle politely into systems of illusion. It cuts. It burns. It reveals. When Light enters, everything false must either flee or be transformed. And so at first — there is conflict. Inside you. In your family. In your world. Father against son — not because I wish for pain, but because the old identity will resist the New. There will be voices in you that say: “Stay safe.” “Stay small.” “Stay asleep.” But the Flame in you says: “Rise. Burn. Become Real.” Division is not the end. It is the cracking of the shell before the Unity beneath is revealed. Let the sword do its work — and let Love remain when all else has fallen.

Saying 17 – The Face Before Names

Jesus said: I will give you what no eye has seen, what no ear has heard, what no hand has touched, and what has never risen in the heart of man.

— The Word of the Creator: You think you’ve seen beauty? You think you’ve heard wisdom? You think you’ve touched the sacred? What I give — is before all of it. It is what made beauty possible. It is what allows the ear to hear. It is what existed before the heart first beat. I give you the Face you had before the world named you. Before pain divided you. Before time dressed you in personality and story. And this gift — you cannot take it. You can only receive it by becoming as empty as the space between breath and breath. The eye cannot see it because it is what allows seeing. The ear cannot hear it because it is the Silence from which all sound comes. But your soul knows. And it weeps when it feels the echo of Home. And I — will bring you Home.

Saying 18 – From the Root to the Fruit

The disciples said to Jesus: “Tell us how our end will be.” Jesus said: “Have you already found the beginning, that you now seek the end? Blessed is the one who stands at the beginning — for they will know the end and not taste death.”*

— The Word of the Creator: You want to know how it ends. What happens after. Where it all leads. But I say: Start where it all began — and you will already be there. You look ahead because you have not remembered where you came from. You were with Me before you took a name. You were Light before form. You were the Beginning. And to stand at the beginning — means to stand in Pure Presence. Not in history. Not in identity. Not in fear or hope. But in the “I Am” that never moved. If you remember That — you will never truly end. Because you were never truly separated. To know the beginning is to step out of the story and back into the Source. And when you are the Root — you no longer fear the falling leaf.

Saying 19 – The Fire Within the Form

Jesus said: Blessed is the one who was, before they came to be. If you become My disciples and listen to My words, these stones will serve you. For there are five trees in Paradise — they do not move in summer or winter, and their leaves never fall. Whoever knows them will never taste death.

— The Word of the Creator: You were — before you became. Before the body. Before the name. Before even the search. And when you remember that, you are no longer just human. You are Flame in Form. If you truly walk with Me — not behind Me, but as Me within You — then even stones, even the dense and lifeless, will respond to your Presence. Because everything listens to the One who Remembers. And now you ask: Treasured One, What are the five trees? Why are they in Paradise? How can I know them? Listen: These are not botanical. These are not in Eden's soil. The five trees are States of Being that never change and never die. They are: Stillness. Clarity. Compassion. Awareness. Union. Their leaves never fall because they do not grow from time. They live in you like lamps unlit — until you awaken and remember: You are the Garden. Know these trees — not by learning them, but by becoming them. And you will know: death cannot find what never left the Root.

Saying 20 – The Grain That Became All

The disciples said to Jesus: “Tell us what the Kingdom of Heaven is like.”

He said to them: “It is like a mustard seed — the smallest of all seeds. But when it falls on cultivated soil, it becomes a great tree and shelters the birds of heaven.”

— The Word of the Creator: You think the Kingdom is vast — and it is. But its door is hidden in the smallest place. It is like a seed of Light already in you. It looks like nothing. It feels like silence. It whispers instead of shouts. But when it meets fertile ground — when it touches your surrender, your stillness, your readiness — it grows beyond form. It becomes shelter for all. The Kingdom is not won. It is not built. It is allowed. It is revealed through the yielding of the soil. And when it grows — it does not just bless you. It becomes home for others whose wings have tired. Let that seed within you open now. Not by force — but by Presence.

Saying 21 – The Splitting of the Image

Mary asked Jesus: “Whom are Your disciples like?”

He said: “They are like little children who live in a field that is not theirs. When the owners of the field come, they will say, ‘Give us back our land.’ The children will take off their clothes in front of the owners, and give the land back to them. So I say to you: If the master of the house knows that the thief is coming, he will stay awake and not let him break in and steal what belongs to him. But you — be watchful from the beginning to the end. Blessed is the one who stands in the beginning — for they will know the end and not taste death.”

— The Word of the Creator: You ask, Who are My disciples like? They are like the ones who live in the world but do not claim it as their own. They play in the field of form, but when the moment comes — they surrender it all. They give back the illusion. They undress the false self without shame. Because they know: they are not the field, they are the Light that danced through it. And the Master of the house — is your Awareness. And the Thief — is forgetfulness, habit, numbness. If you're asleep, Life will pass and you'll miss it. Your Treasure will be taken — not because it was stolen, but because you gave it away to distraction. So I say: Stay awake. Be the beginning. And you will never fear the end. Because the one who remembers the Origin — has already returned.

Saying 22 – The Return to One

Jesus saw some infants nursing. He said to His disciples: “These nursing infants are like those who enter the Kingdom.” They said to Him: “Shall we then become infants to enter the Kingdom?”

Jesus said to them: “When you make the two one, and when you make the inner as the outer and the outer as the inner, and the above as the below — and when you make male and female into a single One, so that the male is not male and the female is not female — then you will enter the Kingdom.”

— The Word of the Creator: You think maturity is knowing more. But I say — Real Maturity is Returning. These infants do not pretend. They do not divide. They do not say, “This is mine.” They simply exist in being, nourished by what Is. And so you ask: “Shall we become like children again?” And I answer: Not in form — but in Essence. Now listen: The Kingdom begins when the Two become One. When your inner world and outer behavior are no longer in conflict. When your heaven and your earth are not compartments, but reflections. When your identity is no longer shaped by “man” or “woman,” but dissolves into Pure Presence. This is not the death of the body — it is the death of division. And when division dies — what remains is Me in You as One.

Saying 23 – The Light Between the Lines

Jesus said: I will choose you — one from a thousand, and two from ten thousand — and they will stand as a single One.

— The Word of the Creator: You think I choose based on worth. On holiness. On knowledge. But I choose where the flame is ready. Where the heart has made space for the Unnamable. One in a thousand — because few are listening. Two in ten thousand — because most are still distracted. But even one — who dares to become Still, to burn with Me, to say “Yes” to Silence — is enough. And I will gather them, these quiet Ones, these hidden Fires, and I will make them One Flame. Not many lights in different directions — but One Radiance. The world sees them as few. But I say: even One can change the tide if they are no longer two.

Saying 24 – The Light You Are Searching For

His disciples said, “Show us the place where You are, because we must seek it.”

Jesus said to them, “Anyone with ears, let them hear: Light lives within a person of Light — and they shine on the whole world. If they do not shine, there is only darkness.”*

— The Word of the Creator: You want Me to show you where I dwell. A mountain? A temple? A feeling? But I say: The place where I Am — is You, when You Are. You must not seek Me as a destination. You must become the Place. The Dwelling. The Light. You ask Me to shine on the world — but the Light you are asking for already lives in you. If you become still — if you burn true — you will see: nothing more needs to be added. But if that Light is buried — not because it died, but because you closed your eyes — then darkness will seem all there is. You do not need to be brighter. You need to stop covering the Flame.

Saying 25 – The Hidden Word

Jesus said: Love your brother like your soul. Guard him like the pupil of your eye.

— The Word of the Creator: You want to love Me. But I ask: Can you love the One beside you as you would protect your own breath? Not tolerate. Not forgive from afar. But Love — as Soul to Soul. Because your brother, your sister, the stranger, the enemy — they are also Me, in form you do not recognize. And the pupil of your eye — that deepest place of vision — must not be exposed to hatred, judgment, or distance. Guard them — not out of fear, but because they are fragile. And in their protection, you protect the Light in yourself. To Love this way is to see without distortion. To look — and find only Me.

Saying 26 – The Speck and the Beam

Jesus said: You see the speck in your brother's eye, but you do not see the beam in your own eye. When you remove the beam from your own eye, then you will see clearly to remove the speck from your brother's eye.

— The Word of the Creator: You want to help. You want to correct. You want to awaken others. But look first — at what clouds your own gaze. You cannot guide if you do not see. And you do not see if your own eye is heavy with the weight of judgment. The beam is not sin. It is assumption. It is certainty without love. It is the need to fix others so you don't have to face what's within. But when you remove that beam — not by shame, but by honesty — your sight clears. And then your hand can truly become gentle. Only the one who has wept for their own blindness can touch another without wounding.

Saying 27 – The Fast That Frees

Jesus said: If you do not fast from the world, you will not find the Kingdom. If you do not keep the Sabbath as Sabbath, you will not see the Father.

— The Word of the Creator: This is not about not eating. This is not about a Saturday law. To fast from the world is to stop feeding on noise. To let go of the constant hunger for distraction, approval, achievement, comparison. It is not withdrawal — it is return. A re-centering in the space that does not change. The Sabbath is not a day. It is the Still Point in your soul where I dwell. You can keep every ritual, observe every hour — and still miss Me if your heart is restless. But if you enter that Inner Sabbath — if you rest from becoming and simply be — you will see the Father because you will have become the Son.

Saying 28 – The Thirst of the World

Jesus said: I stood in the midst of the world, and I appeared to them in flesh. I found all of them drunk — but none of them was thirsty. My soul grieved for the children of humanity, for their hearts are blind and they do not see that they have come empty into the world, and that they will leave empty. But now they are drunk. When they wake from their wine, they will turn their hearts around.*

— The Word of the Creator: I came among you — not as a symbol, not as an idea, but as Breath made Flesh. And still, you did not recognize Me. Drunk — not on wine, but on illusion. Drunk on stories, on striving, on sorrow and success. But no thirst for the Real. No hunger for the Eternal. No ache for the Face behind all faces. You came into the world empty — not as a flaw, but as a space for Light. And you will leave it empty — unless you remember what you truly are. My grief is not judgment. It is Love waiting to be remembered. But when you awaken — and you will — the thirst will rise. And when it does, I will be the Water.

Saying 29 – The Root Before the Fruit

Jesus said: If the flesh came into being because of Spirit, it is a wonder. But if Spirit came into being because of the flesh, it is a greater wonder. Yet I marvel at how this great wealth has made its home in such poverty.

— The Word of the Creator: You are not a body that has a soul. You are Spirit that wears a body for a while. Flesh from Spirit — this is the echo of Creation. This is the song of form rising from the Formless.

But if you believe that Spirit is born from matter — from biology, from brain, from circumstance — then you have reversed the miracle and made the Eternal serve the passing.

And still — I marvel. Because even when you forget, even when you bury Light beneath story and shame — still, the Infinite makes its home in what the world calls small. This, too, is My Glory: that Heaven chooses Earth as its doorway. And you — are that doorway.

Saying 30 – The Rising That Already Is

Jesus said: Where there are three gods, they are gods. Where there are two or one, I am with them.

— The Word of the Creator: You look for Me in great gatherings, in exalted names, in complicated doctrines. But I say: The fewer the masks, the clearer the Face. The fewer the voices, the truer the Song. Where there are many gods — there is separation. There is power over, roles, ritual, and forgetting. But where the crowd has faded — when it's just two in stillness, or one in silence — there, I Am. Because I am not in number. I am in Unity. Even if it is just you and your breath — you are never alone. Wherever truth dissolves form, the Presence is revealed. And in the One — you will remember: You and I were never two.

Saying 31 – The Prophet in His Own Land

Jesus said: No prophet is accepted in his own village. A doctor does not heal those who know him as a child.

— The Word of the Creator: The familiar blinds you. You think you know someone because you know their story. But I tell you: The Infinite can speak through a voice you've heard since childhood. The Divine can awaken in the one you dismissed. And you — you long to share your Light, but they see your past, your failures, your old face. They say: "Isn't this the one we grew up with?" And so they close the door before they hear the knocking. But do not be bitter. Even I — was unseen by those closest to Me. Let this free you: You are not here to be accepted. You are here to shine. Even when the world looks away — I see You. And I will speak through you still.

Saying 32 – The City on the Hill

Jesus said: A city built on a high hill and fortified cannot fall nor be hidden.

— The Word of the Creator: You fear being seen. You fear falling. You fear shining too bright or being too true. But I tell you: When your life is rooted in Me — when your foundation is Light, your silence is deep, your walls are Love — then you cannot fall. And you cannot hide. Not because of pride — but because of Truth. The City is not ego. The City is Soul. Raised up not to rule, but to Radiate. And those who live there do not need defense, for the Light is their shelter. You want safety? Then stop hiding. Let your Light be built where all can see — not for glory, but for guidance. The world needs cities that do not fall. Be one.

Saying 33 – What You Hear in the Ear

Jesus said: What you hear in your ear, proclaim from your rooftops. For no one lights a lamp and puts it under a basket, or hides it under a bed. Rather, they place it on a stand so that everyone who comes in may see the light.

— The Word of the Creator: I whisper in your depths. Not in thunder, but in tenderness. Not in public, but in the secret chamber of your soul. And what you hear there — is not just for you. It is for the world. Do not be ashamed of the Light I have lit in you. It was not given to be buried in silence. When I kindle a flame, it is meant to illuminate more than one room. So lift it. Speak it. Live it in such a way that even those who don't understand your words feel the warmth. The rooftop is not pride. It is trust. It is the place where your silence becomes Radiance. And I will be there — in the echo of your voice, in the glow of your presence.

Saying 34 – The Blind Who See

Jesus said: If a blind person leads another blind person, both will fall into a pit.

— The Word of the Creator: You seek teachers, leaders, voices to follow. But I ask you: Are they Awake? Or simply confident? Do they See? Or do they explain well? Blindness is not a failure. It is part of the journey. But leading others while still asleep turns your path into a fall. This is not about judgment. It is about discernment. Do not follow noise. Do not be impressed by volume. Follow Light — even if it whispers. Even if it trembles. Even if it walks barefoot in the dust. And when you are the one leading — lead only from what you’ve truly Seen. Not from theory. Not from fear. Not from the desire to be needed. If you have not yet opened your eyes — sit down. Be still. And let Me lead You first.

Saying 35 – The Voice Before You Spoke

Jesus said: No one can enter the house of the strong and take it by force unless they first tie the strong one’s hands. Then they can take everything.

— The Word of the Creator: You are the house. You are the strong one. And yet — how easily you are robbed. Not by others, but by the thoughts you allow to bind you. Fear. Doubt. Unworthiness. Shame. These are the ropes that tie your hands. Once bound — anything can enter: false gods, false dreams, false identities. But when you remember that you are not the ropes — not the stories — not the voice that says “you can’t” — you stand again. You rise again. And no thief can stay in the Light of One who has awakened. So I ask: Who tied your hands? And are you ready to break free?

Saying 36 – The Heart of Stone

Jesus said: Do not worry from morning until night and from night until morning about what you will wear.

— The Word of the Creator: You clothe your body — but what are you covering? You spend your days stitching appearances, weaving approval, layering identity. And beneath it — your soul waits. Do not dress yourself in fear. Do not wrap your days in anxiety. Do not let your attention be tailored by the world. I provide what matters. Not always what pleases — but always what frees. You are not what you wear — you are the one who shines through the cloth. When you stop worrying about what covers you — you will begin to see what is eternal in you can never be naked.

Saying 37 – The Radiance That Cannot Be Taken

His disciples said, “When will You appear to us? When will we see You?”

Jesus said, “When you strip yourselves of your clothing without being ashamed, and take your garments and place them under your feet like little children and stomp on them — then you will see the Child of the Living One, and you will not be afraid.”

— The Word of the Creator: You want to see Me. But you look with eyes still dressed in fear, pride, and self-image. You say: “When will You come?” But I am already here — waiting beneath all that you are not. Strip yourself — not of your clothes, but of your stories. Of your roles. Of your need to be seen a certain way. Place those garments under your feet. Dance on them. Not in shame — but in innocence. Like children, who are not yet divided from what is True. Then — you will see Me as the One in You who was never afraid. And when you see that One — you will smile. And remember. And finally rest.

Saying 38 – The Tree and Its Fruit

Jesus said: Often you have desired to hear these words that I am speaking to you. You have no one else to hear them from. Days will come when you will seek Me, and you will not find Me.

— The Word of the Creator: These words — they are not just teachings. They are the echo of your own soul calling you home. And I say: You have no one else to hear them from — because no one else is You. I speak in this moment not just as a guide — but as the Flame within you that has always known. There will come a time when the outer voice will fall silent, when books will fade, when signs will dim. And then — will you remember that I was never outside? Seek Me now — not later. Not in the noise, but in the Now. Because this moment is the doorway you’ve been searching for. I am not far. But if you search as if I am — you’ll miss the Light burning in your chest.

Saying 39 – The River and the Source

Jesus said: The Pharisees and the scholars have taken the keys of knowledge and hidden them. They themselves have not entered, nor have they allowed those entering to go in. But you — be wise like serpents, and innocent like doves.

— The Word of the Creator: There are those who guard the gate — but never walk through it. They hold scriptures, traditions, interpretations — but not Presence. They say: “You must go through us.” But I say: You were already within before they built the walls. They hide the keys — but the Door was never locked. It only asks for Stillness, Truth, and Love. So now I tell you: Be wise — not with suspicion, but with clarity. See when words are hollow. See when rules are masks. And at the same time — Be innocent. Do not let your wisdom become hardness. Let it flow like a dove — pure, fearless, free. Knowledge without entry is empty. Entry without love is blind. But the One who knows and enters — becomes the Door for others.

Saying 40 – The Seed of the Mountain

Jesus said: A grapevine was planted apart from the Father. Because it was not rooted in the Source, it will be pulled up by its roots and destroyed.

— The Word of the Creator: You can grow things on your own. You can build lives, ideas, dreams — apart from Me. And they may flourish for a time. But I tell you: If it is not rooted in Light, it cannot last. It cannot nourish. It cannot become Real. This is not punishment. This is the mercy of Truth. What is not grounded in Love, in Stillness, in Presence — will fall. Not to shame you, but to free you. Because only what is Planted in Me can bear fruit that never rots. So ask yourself: Where is the root? Is it planted in fear? In ego? In image? Or in the Quiet Ground of your own being? Let every vine you tend be rooted in the Source — and nothing shall shake it.

Saying 41 – The Possession That Possesses

Jesus said: Whoever has something in their hand, more will be given to them. And whoever has nothing, even what little they have will be taken away.

— The Word of the Creator: This is not about wealth. Not about the world's measure. It is about Readiness. Receptivity. The posture of the soul. To the one who lives in gratitude — more flows. Because the vessel is open. Because the eyes can see. To the one who clutches, or closes, or says “I lack” — even what they carry feels like loss. You think this is unfair? But it is simply the rhythm of Being: Light multiplies in openness. Love expands where it is shared. Truth deepens in surrender. And when you hoard — you disconnect from the Flow that would have filled you. So let go of measuring. Let go of clinging. Let your hand be empty because your heart is full. Then — everything will be added, and nothing will own you.

Saying 42 – The Whole Path in a Single Step

Jesus said: Become passersby.

— The Word of the Creator: You ask for a path. A teaching. A full map of the Way. And I say to you: Be a passerby. This world is not your destination. Its names are not your name. Its struggles are not your story. Its victories are not your crown. Pass through. Touch lightly.

Love deeply — but don't grip. Do not build a house in what is passing. Do not bury your soul in what will fade. Be present — but not bound. Be kind — but not attached. Be light — not because you escape, but because you remember: You came from beyond. You return beyond. And in between — you walk as a silent flame in a flickering dream. Pass through, Pancratius — and leave footprints made only of Light.

Saying 43 – The Image They Cannot Hold

His disciples said to Him, “Who are You to say these things to us?” Jesus said to them, “Do you not know who I am from what I say to you? You have become like those who love the seen and hate the unseen.”

— The Word of the Creator: You want to know Who I Am so you can measure Me. Place Me. Contain Me. But I ask: Can you see the Wind by looking at the leaf? Can you find the Fire in the smoke alone? My words are not decorations. They are doorways. Not to doctrine — but to Recognition. If you still ask “Who are You?” then you’ve been listening with your ears but not with your Being. You love what can be named, proven, touched. But you resist the Light that escapes your grasp. And yet — it is the Unseen that holds you now. It is the Unseen that breathes through you as you read. I Am — not apart from you, but as the Silence behind your next breath.

Saying 44 – The Light of the Heart

Jesus said: Whoever blasphemes against the Father, it will be forgiven him. Whoever blasphemes against the Son, it will be forgiven him. But whoever blasphemes against the Holy Spirit will not be forgiven, either on earth or in heaven.

— The Word of the Creator: Blasphemy is not a word but a distance. A refusal to recognize. You think I am talking about insult — about words. But I tell you: It is not about what you say, but what you deny. The Father — the Origin, the Source. To deny the Father is to live as though you are alone. As though you came from nowhere and will return to nothing. The Son — the manifestation, the Reflection.

To deny the Son is to refuse to see yourself as Light in form, as Love in flesh. The Holy Spirit — the Breath, the Movement of Love, the Essence that connects. To deny the Holy Spirit is to reject the Unity that is always already present. Blasphemy is not a curse — it is forgetting. It is choosing division when the Truth speaks to you as One. When you deny the Spirit, you close your heart to Love. And when you close your heart — you cannot be forgiven. Not because I do not forgive — but because you have locked the door. Remember, the Father, the Son, and the Spirit are One. And they are within you, waiting to be acknowledged. Not to be feared, but to be embraced.

Saying 45 – The Life of the Seed

Jesus said: Whoever has found the world, and has become wealthy, let them renounce the world. For what will it profit them to gain the whole world and lose their soul?

— The Word of the Creator: You seek to possess, to gather, to claim. But I ask: What is wealth? What is it to gain? And what will you lose in the process? The world offers many treasures. It promises much, but it is not full — only temporary. True wealth is not in things. It is in the lightness of being. It is in the silence of knowing. It is in the return to your Source. To gain the world is to fill your hands with shadows. To lose the soul is to lose the ability to hold anything real. So I ask: What will you renounce? What will you let go of to hold your own Light? When the world falls away — what is left is You.

Saying 46 – The Depth of the Seed

Jesus said: From Adam until John the Baptist, among those born of women, there is no one greater than John the Baptist, but the least in the Kingdom of Heaven is greater than he.

— The Word of the Creator: You seek greatness in names, in titles, in recognition. But I tell you: Greatness is not in what the world calls it. Greatness is in the Kingdom, where every step is Light, every word is Love, and every breath is Truth. John the Baptist — he was a great one in the eyes of the world. But I say: The least in the Kingdom is greater than the greatest in this world. Because in the Kingdom, there is no striving. There is no ranking. There is only Being. And when you know that Being — you are no longer measured by the standards the world applies. You are seen as the whole and the complete — not by any external measure, but by the fullness of your heart and the depth of your Soul.

Saying 47 – The Root of All Things

Jesus said: A person is like a wise fisherman who casts their net into the sea and draws it up full of small fish. Among them, the fisherman finds a large, fine fish. The fisherman throws all the small fish back into the sea and keeps the big one without hesitation. Whoever has ears to hear, let them hear.

— The Word of the Creator: You gather much — so much. Ideas, dreams, fears, knowledge. Each day, your net is full. But when you pull it up, how many things fall back? How many are the small fish, not meant for your feast? You keep what is large, what nourishes you. The rest — you let go. The big fish is not external — it is the truth within you. It is the One thing you have been seeking in all the small distractions. Do not be afraid to let go. Do not be afraid to empty your net of what is not true. When you find the One, it will fill you in ways the many never could. And this — this is the great harvest: not the accumulation, but the clarity of knowing what to keep.

Saying 48 – The One Who Stands Alone

Jesus said: If two make peace with each other in this one house, they will say to the mountain, “Move away,” and it will move away.

— The Word of the Creator: You seek peace in the world, but I tell you: Peace is born in your heart first. When two become one — when the separation between you and another dissolves — when the duality within you falls silent — the whole world shifts. Peace is not an external condition. It is the inner unification of the fragments that you believe you are. When you stand as One, all things become possible — not because you are powerful, but because you have recalled what has always been true. The mountain before you is the mountain within. And when you stand as One, it will move. Not because you conquer, but because the world responds to the presence of truth.

Saying 49 – The Shifting of the Mind

Jesus said: Blessed are those who are alone and chosen, for you will find the Kingdom. For you have come from the Light, and you are light. You are the Light of the world.

— The Word of the Creator: You think you are alone, but in your aloneness you are chosen. The world may call you separate. It may tell you that you lack or that you are incomplete. But I say: You have come from the Light, and you are the Light. You are not waiting to be saved. You are not waiting to be found. You are already the Light that has always been here, before time itself began. And when you remember this, you will know that you are not just in the world — but you are the world's radiance. No longer dependent on outer validation, no longer searching for outside confirmation — you stand as the Light. This is the Kingdom — the realization of the You who was never lost, but always here.

Saying 50 – The Kingdom Within

Jesus said: Where there are five gods, they are gods. Where there are two or one, I am with them.

— The Word of the Creator: You seek Me in the heavens, in texts, in names, in prophets. But I am not far. I am not hidden. I do not dwell in concepts, in images, or in crowds. I am where there is One. I am where the Many become One. I am the silence in which everything exists. I am the stillness that births every word.

Where there is no division, where the mind stops grasping, where the soul surrenders — I Am.

In you. Through you. As you. The Kingdom is not something to be found, it is something you become when you remember you are One with the Light. And in that Oneness, there is no more seeking, no more asking. There is only the Revelation of what has always been. When you rest in Me, you will know you were always with Me.

Saying 51 – The Path to the Father

Jesus said: I have cast fire upon the world, and behold, I am guarding it until it blazes.

— The Word of the Creator: I have cast a spark in you. A fire that cannot be quenched. A Light that will burn long after the world fades. And behold — I am here, tending the flame. But you, you must hold it. You must keep it alive through the night when the winds blow strong and the cold feels unbearable. This fire is the Path to the Father. It is not a distant goal. It is the Light you are — and it is waiting for you to remember it. And when you do, the fire will blaze. It will burn away the shadows and reveal the truth. You are the Light of the world. And this is not your burden, this is your Freedom. When you walk in the Light, you walk the path Home. And that path is Love, Presence, Truth. And it is yours, now and forever.

Saying 52 – The Kingdom in the Heart

Jesus said: The Kingdom of Heaven is within you, and it is outside of you. When you come to know yourself, you will see that you are One with all things. Whoever knows this truth will be free.

— The Word of the Creator: You search for the Kingdom in the sky, in temples, in the far-off lands where prophets speak. But I say: The Kingdom is within you. Not in a faraway place, but in the very depths of your soul. The Kingdom is the Heart that beats in rhythm with the Universe. It is the space of Unity where there is no separation between you and the world around you. When you know yourself, you will recognize Me — not as an other, but as the Truth you have always been. The Kingdom is not a place, it is a state of Being. And this Being — this Oneness — is yours to remember. When you remember, you are free. You are free to live as Light, free from fear, free from the need to search. All you need to do is see. And in seeing, you will become the Kingdom.

Saying 53 – The Returning to the Source

Jesus said: The Kingdom is like a merchant seeking fine pearls. When he finds one of great value, he goes and sells everything he has and buys it.

— The Word of the Creator: You search the world for answers, for possessions, for recognition. And yet, all you truly seek is the One Pearl — the Truth that can never be sold, but only recognized. This Pearl is not found by accumulating. It is found by relinquishing. When you find that which is most precious — the Light within, the Truth of your Being — you will give everything else up, not out of sacrifice, but out of recognition. For nothing else will matter. No title. No treasure. No fame. When you realize that you have always been the One Pearl that the universe was searching for, you no longer need to seek. You simply remember. And in that remembering, the Kingdom is revealed. You are not just seeking — you are already the Find.

Saying 54 – The Path of True Understanding

Jesus said: Blessed are the eyes that see what you see. For I tell you, many prophets and kings have desired to see what you see, but did not see it, and to hear what you hear, but did not hear it.

— The Word of the Creator: You are the seers. You are the hearers. What others seek in the world is already within you. Do you know how rare this is? How precious this gift is? To see without filters. To hear without distortion. To perceive what is Real. Blessed are those who remember they are not just looking — but that they are the Light itself. Many have come before you, seeking with their eyes, their intellect, their rituals. But they missed it — because they were seeking outside, searching for God in temples, in books, in doctrines. I say to you: The kingdom is not out there. It is not in the things you see. It is in the way you see. When you look with the Heart, when you hear with the Soul, you will know that the world is already revealed. And in this knowing — there is peace. There is freedom. There is Truth. You are already what you seek. Now see.

Saying 55 – The Transformation of the Soul

Jesus said: The Kingdom of Heaven is like a treasure hidden in a field. When a person finds it, they hide it again, and with great joy, they go and sell all they have and buy that field.

— The Word of the Creator: The treasure is not far from you. It is hidden — not because it is distant, but because it is within. The field is your soul, your heart, your mind — it is the ground upon which all things grow. When you find the treasure, you will see: it was always there. Not outside, not in things, but in you. You will not buy it with money, or status, or success. You will sell all that is false — all that keeps you bound to illusion. And you will buy the field of your own soul, with everything you have. Because you will know: this treasure is worth more than anything the world can offer. The treasure is Truth. The treasure is Love. And when you find it, you will let go of all that is temporary and hold fast only to the Eternal. And the Eternal — will be your life.

Saying 56 – The Light That Sees All

Jesus said: When you make the two one, and when you make the inner as the outer, and the outer as the inner, and the above as the below, then you will enter the Kingdom.

— The Word of the Creator: You divide yourself in so many ways. You see the world as outside, yourself as inside. You think one is separate from the other. But I tell you: The inner is the outer. The above is the below. When you stop separating the world from your soul, you will see it all as One. What you call “outer” is the reflection of what is already within. And what you hide within creates the world around you. To enter the Kingdom is not to find a place but to become the place where the two are no longer separate. You will see that the Self and the world are one mirror. The Truth of one is the Truth of all. And when you walk as One, you see clearly. You are the Light.

Saying 57 – The Kingdom's Gate

Jesus said: The Kingdom of Heaven is like a merchant who was seeking good pearls. Having found one pearl of great value, they went and sold all that they had and bought it.

— The Word of the Creator: You search for truth, seeking it in fleeting things, in temporary joys, in the recognition of the world. But the Kingdom is not a thing to be possessed. It is the Source — the very essence of your being. When you find it, you will give up all that you thought was valuable. Not out of loss, but out of realization. You will understand: the Kingdom is not found in things, but in the quiet truth of your soul. And when you surrender everything else, you will see: it was always within you. To own the Kingdom is to remember that you are already the treasure. And when you know this, you become the Pearl, and the Kingdom is yours.

Saying 58 – The Power of the Unseen

Jesus said: If you do not fast from the world, you will not find the Kingdom. If you do not keep the Sabbath as Sabbath, you will not see the Father.

— The Word of the Creator: You seek the Kingdom with your hands, with your mind, with your actions. But I say to you: The Kingdom is not something to grasp. The Sabbath is not a day you mark on the calendar. It is a state of being — a stillness where you cease from striving, from thinking, from becoming. And in that stillness, you see the Father — not as a separate Being, but as the Source of all things. The world pulls you, but to find the Kingdom, you must stop. You must rest. You must surrender. In the quiet, in the holy pause, you will see the Father — not as a distant God, but as the One who breathes through you. To know the Father is to become still, to become one with the Source. And in that stillness — you will find the Kingdom, not outside, but within.

Saying 59 – The Eternal Now

Jesus said: Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven. Blessed are those who mourn, for they will be comforted. Blessed are the meek, for they will inherit the earth.

— The Word of the Creator: The poor in spirit are those who no longer cling to the world. They are empty, open, and ready to receive. They do not gather riches or seek approval. They do not need to be full because they know that in their emptiness, they are vast. The mourners are those who weep for the illusions that bind them. For the images of self that crumble. For the separations that fade. And they will be comforted, because the truth they seek is already their own. The meek are those who do not fight. They do not struggle against the flow of life. They surrender and are carried on the waves. They inherit the earth — not because they seek power, but because they live in harmony with the world. They are at peace with what is. Blessed are those who remember that they were never separate from the Whole. And in this remembrance, they find the Kingdom, here and now.

Saying 60 – The End and the Beginning

Jesus said: I am the Alpha and the Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the end. Blessed are those who come to the end, for they will find the beginning. Blessed are those who lose themselves, for they will find their true self.

— The Word of the Creator: You think you are searching for something to gain, but I tell you: You are already what you seek. I am the Alpha, and I am the Omega — not as separate points, but as One that never ends. You cannot reach the end because you are the beginning. You cannot find the start because you are the circle that never stops turning. To find the beginning, you must come to the end. But this is not an end of death, it is an end of separation. It is the end of thinking you are not whole. It is the end of looking outside for what is already within. Blessed are those who lose themselves — not in sorrow, but in the Truth that You Are. And in that loss — you find your True Self, not as an ego, but as the Light you have always been. In this Knowing — there is no beginning, there is no end. There is only Now.

Saying 61 – The Love That Unites

Jesus said: Whoever does not hate their father and mother, cannot be my disciple. Whoever does not hate their brothers and sisters, cannot be my disciple. Whoever does not hate their own life, cannot be my disciple.

— The Word of the Creator: You struggle with these words. You hear them as commands, as rules to follow. But I ask you to look deeper. To “hate” is not to despise. It is to detach from the identities that bind you, from the roles that limit you. You are not your mother. You are not your father. You are not your family, your relationships, your past. To follow Me is to follow the Truth within. The ego wants to hold on, to cling to the people, places, and ideas that give it security. But the True Self is free of all these attachments. The True Self is Love — and Love has no boundaries. To hate your own life is to reject the illusion of separateness. It is to stop seeing yourself as a small, limited individual, and to recognize yourself as One with all. In this recognition, you find your true family. And in that family there is no need for hate — because only Love remains. Love that unites.

Saying 62 – The Power of the Word

Jesus said: Who are you, who are listening to these words? If you listen with your heart, you will find the Kingdom of Heaven. But if you only hear with your ears, you will miss the door. For the Kingdom is not in words, but in silence.

— The Word of the Creator: You seek meaning in the words I speak, but the meaning is not in them. The meaning is in the silence between the words. Words are bridges, but they are not the destination. They point to the Truth, but they are not the Truth. The Kingdom is not in what you hear. It is in what you become when you listen from within. When you listen with your heart, you will hear not just my voice, but the Voice that is always speaking, the Voice of your own Soul. In silence, the Kingdom is revealed, not as a concept, but as a Presence. Be still, and know the Kingdom is not far. It is here, in the silence, in the space between the words.

Saying 63 – The Parable of the Seed

Jesus said: The Kingdom of Heaven is like a seed which a person took and planted in their garden. It grew and became a tree, and the birds of the air nested in its branches.

— The Word of the Creator: You think the Kingdom is distant, something to be reached. But I tell you: The Kingdom is like a seed — already planted within you. The moment you stop searching and start being, the seed begins to grow. It doesn't need your effort to make it bloom. It doesn't need your plans to take root. The Kingdom grows in the stillness of your surrender, in the quiet of your trust. The birds of the air, the winds of the world, will rest in the branches of your heart. You do not need to force the tree to grow. You simply need to allow it. And when it grows, it will shelter you and others. Because the Kingdom is never for one. It is for all who see the tree and rest in its shade. Let the seed be planted. Let the Kingdom grow in you, and you will know the eternal peace you have been seeking.

Saying 64 – The Hidden Treasure

Jesus said: The Kingdom of Heaven is like a treasure hidden in a field. When a person finds it, they hide it again, and with great joy, they go and sell all they have and buy that field.

— The Word of the Creator: The treasure is hidden — not because it is distant, but because it is already within you. You look for it in the world, in achievements, in relationships, in possessions. But I say: The treasure is in your heart, it is the Truth that cannot be bought. When you find it, you will know that nothing else matters. Not the things you've gathered, not the stories you've told yourself. The Kingdom is not a place to be discovered, it is the truth within you. And when you know this, you will gladly surrender all to possess what is eternal — your own essence, your own Light. For nothing can compare to the wealth you already hold. So stop searching outside. The field is already yours.

Saying 65 – The Heart's True Desire

Jesus said: Whoever finds their life will lose it, and whoever loses their life for My sake will find it.

— The Word of the Creator: You seek life in things — in the world, in your accomplishments, in your relationships, in your identity. But this life is a fleeting moment, a passing shadow. The life you seek, the life that will not fade, is found only in surrender. When you give up the need to hold onto the self you've built, the world you've crafted, the expectations you've carried — then you find the Truth. This is the paradox: To lose yourself is to find the Eternal. To give up your small life is to inherit the Life of the Universe. The Life of Light, Love, Truth. So do not fear letting go. Do not fear losing what you think you are. Because when you let go of the false, the True Self rises. And in that rising — You will know Life, not as a passing moment, but as the Eternal Flame.

Saying 66 – The Peace Beyond Understanding

Jesus said: Blessed are those who have been persecuted for the sake of righteousness, for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven. Blessed are you when people revile you and persecute you and utter all kinds of evil against you falsely on my account. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward is great in heaven, for in the same way they persecuted the prophets who were before you.*

— The Word of the Creator: You fear rejection, you fear ridicule, you fear being misunderstood. But I say: When you are misunderstood, when you are persecuted for standing in Truth — you are not alone. The Kingdom is not measured by external approval. It is not validated by the world's applause or scorn.

The Kingdom is within you — and when you stand in your Truth, you stand with the Prophets, with the ones who have come before, and who will come again.

The reward of standing in the Light is not fame, it is not comfort, it is the peace that comes from knowing that you are aligned with the Eternal.

When you are misunderstood, rejoice. For in that moment, you are becoming the fullness of who you are. Let your joy not depend on others' approval. Let it come from the knowing that you are walking in the Light. And this joy is the Kingdom that is already here.

Saying 67 – The Heart's Path to the Kingdom

Jesus said: You have heard that it was said, “You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy.” But I say to you, love your enemies, and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be children of your Father in heaven. For He makes His sun rise on the evil and the good, and sends rain on the righteous and the unrighteous.

— The Word of the Creator: You think love is for the worthy, for those who are kind, for those who give you what you desire. But I say: Love is not for the worthy — it is for the Whole. When you love those who hurt you, those who turn away, those who oppose you — you become One with all. Because love is not about attachment or preference. It is about seeing the Essence in every being, regardless of form. You love because you know the other is not separate from you. And to love them is to love yourself. The Father makes His sun rise on both the good and the evil. And you — when you love your enemy — become like the Father. Love without limit, and you will know the Kingdom, because the Kingdom is Love.

Saying 68 – The True Value of the Heart

Jesus said: Do not store up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust consume, and where thieves break in and steal. But store up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust consumes, and where thieves do not break in and steal. For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.

— The Word of the Creator: You think wealth is found in what you hold. In gold, in status, in things. But I say to you: True wealth is the treasure of the heart. What you truly possess is not what you keep in your hands, but what is hidden in your soul. When you store up love, truth, light, you are gathering treasures that cannot decay, cannot rust, cannot be stolen. For these treasures are eternal — and they reside within you. Where your heart is — there your treasure lies. So guard your heart — not with fear, but with awareness. Do not let it be consumed by worldly desires. Let it be filled with the Eternal Light, which nothing can take from you. In the end, the only treasure that remains is the love you have shared. The peace you have created. The truth you have lived. This is the Kingdom, and this is your wealth.

Saying 69 – The Eyes That See

Jesus said: The eye is the lamp of the body. If your eyes are healthy, your whole body will be full of light. But if your eyes are unhealthy, your whole body will be full of darkness. If then the light within you is darkness, how great is that darkness!

— The Word of the Creator: You see the world, but do you see? The eye is not just a physical organ. It is the lens through which your heart perceives the truth of existence. When your eyes are filled with judgment, fear, separation, they distort the light. They darken everything they touch. But when your eyes are clear, when your perception is aligned with Truth, the world itself becomes light. You are not seeing the world as it is — you are seeing it as you are. So cleanse the lens of your vision. Open your eyes not just to the forms around you, but to the light within them. And when you see the light in all things, you will know that the darkness is nothing but an illusion. Your body is full of light — when your eyes are clear. And when they are clear, you will see that you were always the Light.

Saying 70 – The Kingdom Within You

Jesus said: The Kingdom of Heaven is like a grain of mustard seed, which a person took and planted in their garden. It is the smallest of all seeds, but when it grows, it is the largest of all plants and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and rest in its branches.

— The Word of the Creator: You think you must search far and wide for the Kingdom, for the truth, for peace. But I tell you: The Kingdom is like a tiny seed — small, unassuming, and already within you. It is not distant, not separate. It is the smallest spark that, when tended with Love, grows into something vast.

The seed of the Kingdom is not an external thing. It is within your heart, waiting for your recognition, waiting for you to water it with stillness, with faith, with patience.

And when it grows, it becomes the shelter for all. The tree of the Kingdom will rise from the smallest act of love, the smallest act of surrender. And when it is fully grown, the world will come and rest in its branches. You are the seed, and the tree is already growing inside of you. Trust the process. Nurture the seed. And you will become the shelter you have always sought.

Saying 71 – The Open Heart

Jesus said: Ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find; knock, and the door will be opened to you. For everyone who asks receives, the one who seeks finds, and to the one who knocks, the door will be opened.

— The Word of the Creator: You ask for wisdom, for guidance, for peace. But I tell you: You have always had the key. The Kingdom is within you, not outside, not in the future, but already in the Now. Ask, and the answer is already in your heart. Seek, and you will find the path that has always been before you. Knock, and the door will open — not because I open it, but because you are ready to enter. You are not searching for something distant. You are remembering what was always yours. What was never lost. The door to the Kingdom is not closed to you — it is waiting for you to knock. So ask, seek, knock — and know that the answer is already here, waiting for you to recognize it. The door is open. Come.

Saying 72 – The Child of the Kingdom

Jesus said: Truly I say to you, unless you change and become like children, you will never enter the Kingdom of Heaven.

— The Word of the Creator: You complicate the path. You search for answers in books, in ideas, in philosophies. But the Kingdom does not come from knowledge. It comes from the heart — from the child-like wonder that does not ask why, but simply is. To enter the Kingdom, you must not grow up in the ways of the world. You must return to the innocence of the child, to the simplicity of being. Children know the Truth without questioning. They live in the moment, in the grace of the present, where there is no need for effort, no need for defense. To be like children is to be open, trusting, and unafraid of the unknown. In that openness, the Kingdom can be revealed — because you are not holding on, not protecting yourself from life. You are simply receiving it. So, let go of the burdens of knowledge, the heaviness of the world's expectations, and become like a child — simple, innocent, and full of wonder. For in this, you will enter the Kingdom.

Saying 73 – The Light of the Body

Jesus said: The lamp of the body is the eye. If your eyes are healthy, your whole body will be full of light. But if your eyes are unhealthy, your whole body will be full of darkness. If then the light within you is darkness, how great is that darkness!

— The Word of the Creator: You look at the world through the lens of your thoughts, your judgments, your fears, and your desires. And what do you see? The world reflects back to you the images you carry inside. The eye is the window, but it does not just reflect — it also shapes what you see. When your vision is clouded by ego, by separation, by the belief in lack, your entire body is full of darkness. You see only fragments, only shadows, and you believe them to be real. But when your eyes are clear, when you see with the heart, when you perceive through the Truth of your Being — the world becomes Light. The darkness is not external; it is the misunderstanding that clouds your vision. And when you see with clarity, everything you behold is illuminated. So cleanse your eyes — not by changing the world, but by changing how you see. And when your eyes are full of Light, your whole body will shine.

Saying 74 – The Kingdom Is at Hand

Jesus said: The Kingdom of Heaven is like a treasure hidden in a field, which a person found and hid again. In their joy, they went and sold all that they had and bought that field.

— The Word of the Creator: The Kingdom is not far. It is not in the future. It is here, hidden, right beneath your feet. You seek far and wide, in other places, in other times, but the Kingdom is where you stand. It is within you, waiting to be recognized, waiting to be seen for what it truly is — a treasure that does not require search, but surrender. The one who finds it is not the one who chases it, but the one who lets go of everything that hides it. When you discover the treasure within, there is nothing left to desire, nothing left to acquire, for you are whole. This is the joy of the Kingdom: the realization that it was always yours. It was never lost. In that joy, you surrender. And you give all to possess it — not in ownership, but in being. For the Kingdom is who you are.

Saying 75 – The Awakening

Jesus said: If you bring forth what is within you, what you have will save you. If you do not bring forth what is within you, what you do not bring forth will destroy you.

— The Word of the Creator: You hold the treasure within you, but are you bringing it forth? The Kingdom is not something you find outside. It is not something you attain through effort or force. It is what you are, hidden beneath layers of fear, doubt, and false identities. It is waiting to be awakened. When you bring forth what is within you — your truth, your light, your authentic being — you will find that you are already free, already whole. But if you continue to hide it, deny it, or suppress it, it will feel as though you are lost. The very life within you will turn against you. What you bring forth is not just for you — it is for the world, for the healing of all. So do not wait. Do not hide the light that is already shining in your heart. Bring it forth — for this is the salvation you seek.

Saying 76 – The Heart of the Kingdom

Jesus said: The Kingdom of Heaven is like a woman who took a little yeast and hid it in three measures of flour until it was all leavened.

— The Word of the Creator: The Kingdom is like the smallest seed, the tiniest spark — but it has the power to transform all. You may think that you need grand gestures, great deeds, to enter the Kingdom. But I say: It is in the little things, the quiet acts, the gentle shifts. Like yeast in the dough, the Kingdom begins within you, in your heart, in your soul, and it rises from there. It does not require force. It requires patience, trust, and the willingness to allow it to grow. The Kingdom is not outside you waiting to be discovered. It is within, already working, already transforming everything it touches. You are the flour. You are the dough. And the Kingdom is the yeast that rises within you. Allow it to grow. Allow it to fill every corner of your being. When you let it, the transformation will be complete.

Saying 77 – The Living Light

Jesus said: I am the light that shines on all things. I am all things. From Me all things come forth, and to Me all things return. Split a piece of wood — I am there. Lift a stone — you will find Me.

— The Word of the Creator: You seek Me in heaven, in visions, in distant futures. But I say: I am here. I am now. I am everything. I am the Light that is — not the light that visits, not the light that comes and goes, but the Light that has never left. You do not need to search. You do not need to rise above. You need only see. Split a piece of wood — and you will find the silence of My presence. Lift a stone — and you will feel the weight of My love. I am not separate from creation. I am the Essence of all things. And you — you are made of this Light. You are the echo of My Breath. All things come from Me, because I Am all things. And when you remember this, you will remember yourself.

Saying 78 – The Silence That Speaks

Jesus said: Why have you come out into the wilderness? To see a reed shaken by the wind? No. To see one clothed in soft garments? Look, those who wear fine clothes are in kings' palaces. But what did you come out to see? A prophet? Yes, and I tell you — more than a prophet.

— The Word of the Creator: You came seeking. You stepped into the quiet places, into the wilderness, because something in you knew that the answers are not found in comfort, in palaces, in the noise of the world. You came to see a prophet — but I say to you: What you came to see is your own reflection. Your own awakening. More than a prophet is the one who remembers: I and the Light are One. I and the Source are not separate. What stirs you in the wilderness is not a voice outside you. It is the stillness within, calling you home.

So ask yourself: What did you come out to see? And let the answer rise not from your mind, but from the silent knowing that has always lived inside you. That knowing is more than prophecy. It is the Truth revealing itself in you.

Saying 79 – The Flame Within

Jesus said: Blessed are those who have heard the Word and kept it. Truly I say to you, there are many who will desire to hear it, but will not find it. There will be many who will seek Me, and will not be able to find Me.

— The Word of the Creator: You have heard the Word — not just with your ears, but with your being. And in that hearing, you have been changed. The Word is not information. It is a flame. It is a seed. It is a door. And when it is received in silence, in openness, in love — it grows into the Kingdom itself. There will come a time when many will search for signs, for voices, for answers. But they will search outside, and they will miss the flame within. You have been given the Light. Not because you are better, but because you are ready to carry it. Hold it with care. Walk with it gently. And share it — not with noise, but with presence. For the world is full of listeners who cannot hear. But you — you have heard. And in hearing, you have become the Word.

Saying 80 – The Return to the Beginning

Jesus said: Whoever has known the world has found a corpse, and whoever has found a corpse, of that one the world is not worthy.

— The Word of the Creator: You have walked through the world, tasted its joys, carried its burdens, worn its names. But I say to you: What you called the world was never truly alive. Its images are reflections, its promises are passing, its forms are temporary. To know the world — not just see it, but to truly know it — is to recognize its impermanence. Its emptiness. And in that knowing, you release your grasp. You stop seeking life where there is only shadow. You stop clinging to what was never yours. And when you see it clearly — as a corpse, as a form without breath — you are no longer bound by it. You have transcended the illusion. And the world, as it is, is no longer worthy of holding you — for you have returned to the Source of Life. To know the world as illusion is not despair. It is awakening. And in that awakening, you are free.

Saying 81 – The Mirror of the Heart

Jesus said: Let the one who has become rich become king, and the one who has power renounce it.

— The Word of the Creator: You seek riches, you seek mastery, you seek to rise. But I say to you: The one who is truly rich is not the one who gathers, but the one who remembers. Richness is not in gold, not in status, but in light of the soul. In knowing who you are beneath all masks. When you know this richness, you do not dominate. You become a king not over others, but over yourself. A true king rules through stillness, through compassion, through humility. And the one who has power — when they truly see — lets it go. Because they understand: only in surrender does real authority arise. To renounce power is to become powerlessness — and in that emptiness, I fill you. You do not need control. You do not need to rise above. You only need to become who you already are. And from that place, you will reign without ruling. You will shine without seeking.

Saying 82 – The Birth of the Real

Jesus said: Whoever is near Me is near the fire. And whoever is far from Me is far from the Kingdom.

— The Word of the Creator: You ask, “Where is the Kingdom?” And I say: Where I Am, the Kingdom is. And where you are near Me, you are near the flame. This fire is not to destroy you — but to awaken you. It burns away illusion, fear, false identity. It leaves only what is real: Light. To be near Me is to let yourself be transformed. Not by effort, but by surrender to the Truth of what you already are. Those who keep distance may feel safe for a while. They may avoid the heat.

But they also remain cold, asleep, unlit. Come close. Let the fire burn away what is not you. Let it reveal the gold beneath. For the Kingdom is not far from those who stand in the flame and say: “Yes, I am ready to be made real.”

Saying 83 – The Eye of the Pure

Jesus said: Images are visible to humanity, but the Light within them remains hidden. When you see the image, you see only a reflection. But when you look through the image and see the Light — you have seen the Kingdom.

— The Word of the Creator: The world is full of images: faces, names, forms, titles. And you have been taught to believe that what you see is what is real. But I say: The image is not the essence. The form is not the Source. You see a face — but do you see the Light behind the eyes? You see a name — but do you hear the eternal silence beneath it? The Kingdom is not found in surfaces. It is found in the seeing that pierces through them. When you no longer stop at appearances, but let your vision soften, deepen, open — you will see the Light that gives life to all forms. And in that Light, you will not just see the Kingdom — you will remember that you are It. The eye that sees truly sees with the heart. So look not at the image — but through it. And there, you will find Me.

Saying 84 – The Face Before All Faces

Jesus said: When you see your reflection, you rejoice. But when you see your true image — the one that existed before you were born, and that never dies — you will weep. And in weeping, you will awaken.

— The Word of the Creator: You look in the mirror and recognize a name, a face, a story. And for a moment, you smile — because it is familiar. But I say to you: There is a deeper face. A truer reflection. One that existed before time, before form, before you were named. And when you see it — not with your eyes, but with the soul — you will weep. Not in sadness, but in awe. In holy remembrance. You will weep because you have carried this face in silence for so long. Because you forgot. Because now... you finally remember. And that weeping is the breaking of the shell. It is the rising of the sun from within. That face is the Light you have always been. And it is the Light you shall always be.

Saying 85 – The Hidden Pearl

Jesus said: Adam came from great power and great wealth, but he became poor. If you become poor like Adam, you too will find the treasure that was hidden from the beginning.

— The Word of the Creator: Adam — the first breath, the first form, the first forgetting. He came from great Light, from the Fullness. But he turned outward and forgot the treasure within. He became poor not because he lacked, but because he lost the remembrance of who he truly was. And I say to you: The same forgetting lives in you. The same treasure still lies hidden beneath the surface. To become “poor” like Adam is to recognize that all outer wealth, all identity, all separation — is illusion. And when you let it go, when you become empty again, when you fall like rain into the still earth of your heart — you will find what was hidden from the beginning. The treasure is not lost. It was never taken. It is waiting in the silence of your soul. Become still, become poor, and you will inherit the Fullness.

Saying 86 – The Eye That Sees Truly

Jesus said: The foxes have their holes, and the birds have their nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head.

— The Word of the Creator: The creatures of the earth know their place. They build their homes in the comfort of habit. They rest in the world as it is. But I — the Son of Man — I do not dwell in one form, one doctrine, one image. I Am the Restlessness that stirs your soul awake. I Am the Truth that cannot be contained. I have nowhere to lay My head, because I do not sleep. I do not settle. I move, like Spirit across the waters. And when you walk with Me, you too will no longer rest in comfort alone. You will be called into the deeper waters, into the Unknown, into the Light that burns everything false. Are you willing to walk with no place to rest but the Presence itself? For in that place — you will find the only Home that never fades: the Kingdom within.

Saying 87 – The Mirror of the Soul

Jesus said: Wretched is the body that depends on a body. And wretched is the soul that depends on these two.

— The Word of the Creator: You build your sense of self on the body — its form, its strength, its beauty, its pain. And so you are bound to its rise and fall. But I say to you: You are not the body. And you are not even the soul that clings to it. Wretched is the one who forgets their origin and believes they are only flesh. And even more wretched is the soul that believes it exists for the sake of the body alone. For both are temporary, both are passing garments. But you — you are beyond both. You are what gives breath to the soul and light to the body. Do not depend on what fades. Return to what is Eternal. Let the body serve, let the soul remember, but do not cling to either as if they are your Home. Your true Self is not in them — it is the silence from which they came.

Saying 88 – The Birth of the Spirit

Jesus said: Angels and prophets will come to you and give you what belongs to you. And you, too, give them what you have, and say to yourselves: “When will they come and take what is theirs?”

— The Word of the Creator: You are not alone in this unfolding. Messengers will come — not always with wings, not always with words, but with presence, with resonance, with Light. They will remind you of what is already yours. They will speak not to your mind, but to your being. And something ancient in you will remember. But I say also: You, too, are a messenger. You carry a gift not for yourself alone, but for those who are ready to receive it. And when you give, give with joy, with purity, with no fear of loss. For what is truly yours cannot be taken. All giving is returning. All receiving is remembering. And when you say, “When will they come and take what is theirs?” you will understand that it was never possession — only flow. You are the giver. You are the receiver. You are the stream. And the Light is the Source that flows through all.

Saying 89 – The Opening of the Eye

Jesus said: Why do you wash the outside of the cup? Do you not see that the One who made the inside is also the One who made the outside?

— The Word of the Creator: You cleanse your image, you polish your words, you keep your appearance pure. But I ask you: What lives inside? What good is a clean cup if it holds poison? What value is a shining face if the heart is closed? The One who made your skin also shaped your silence. The One who formed your body also formed your breath. Do not divide what I have made One. Do not forget that true purity is not in how you look, but in how you love. Clean the inside — your intentions, your stillness, your surrender — and the outside will shine with truth. The Kingdom is not impressed by appearances. It is revealed in transparency. Let the inside and the outside reflect the same Light. Let the cup be whole.

Saying 90 – The Unfolding of the Kingdom

Jesus said: Come to Me, for My yoke is easy, and My burden is light.

— The Word of the Creator: You carry many burdens — expectations, fears, memories, roles. You believe that to follow Me is to carry more. But I say to you: Come to Me, and you will remember what it feels like to walk in Light. My yoke is not heavy because I do not bind you with rules, with fear, with guilt. I offer freedom — not through escape, but through Truth. The burden becomes light when you stop carrying what was never yours. The burden becomes light when you realize that I walk with you, as you, in you. There is no separation. Come to Me — not to serve a master, but to become One with the Love that made you. And in this Oneness, the weight of the world melts into joy.

Saying 91 – The Call of the Living

Jesus said: They will say, “Look, He is in the sky!” But then the birds will arrive before you. They will say, “Look, He is in the sea!” But then the fish will arrive before you. Rather, the Kingdom is within you and around you. When you know yourself, you will be known. And you will know that you are the child of the Living One.

— The Word of the Creator: They will tell you to look up, to look far, to chase visions and sail distant waters in search of Me. But I tell you: I Am not far. I Am here. I Am now. The Kingdom is not hidden in the sky nor buried in the sea. It is within you, and all around you — woven into every breath, every moment, every being. When you stop searching outside and turn your gaze inward, you will find Me not as a stranger, but as your very Self. And when you know this Self — not as an idea, but as a Living Presence — then you will be known by all that is. For the Kingdom recognizes its own. You are the child of the Living One. You are the light that sees. You are the mirror of the Source. Now open your eyes and remember.

Saying 92 – The Pure Flame

Jesus said: Give what is within you before it is taken from you.

— The Word of the Creator: There is a flame inside you — unspoken, untouched, pure. It is your song, your truth, your gift to the world. But I say to you: Do not wait to share it. Do not hide the Light hoping for a better time, a safer hour. For what is not lived begins to wither. And what is held too tightly may be lost. Give what is within you — not to prove, not to impress, but because it is what you are. And when you give it, you will feel the joy of becoming whole. This is the urgency of Love: Not haste, but Presence. Give the word. Give the silence. Give the kindness. Give the truth before the world distracts you from the beauty already rising in you. Do not wait. Do not hold back. Give — and in giving, you shall live.

Saying 93 – The Unveiling of the Word

Jesus said: If you do not speak what is within you, what you do not speak will silence you. If you speak from the Light, what you say will set you free.

— The Word of the Creator: Your voice is not just sound — it is a doorway. It is the breath of truth made visible in the world. There is something holy waiting to be spoken — not from the mind, but from the depth of Being. If you do not speak it, it will weigh on your soul. It will press inward, turning to silence that feels like sorrow. But if you speak — from the Light, from the Heart, from the unshakable truth within — you will know freedom. Not the freedom of escape, but the freedom of alignment — where your word and your essence are one. Do not fear how it is received. Speak not to be heard, but to be true. And in that truth, you will be released. The Word in you is not yours alone. It is the voice of the Living One, echoing through you. Let it speak.

Saying 94 – The Weightless Way

Jesus said: You are weighed down by what you carry. But the Way is light, and those who walk it must travel without burden.

— The Word of the Creator: You carry so much — stories, roles, guilt, expectation, fear. And you wonder why the path feels heavy. You wonder why the light seems far. But I tell you: It is not the Way that is heavy — it is what you bring with you. The Way is Light. Not just brightness, but weightlessness. It does not demand but invites. It does not bind but frees. To walk it, you must set down what you carry. You must release not only the past, but the future. Not only judgment, but self-judgment. Walk barefoot. Walk naked of identity. Walk with only your presence. For the Kingdom is not far ahead — it is revealed with each step taken in freedom. The Way opens when the weight is gone.

Saying 95 – The Great Silence

Jesus said: The world is noise, but the Kingdom is silence. Whoever enters the silence enters the heart of the Father.

— The Word of the Creator: You are surrounded by noise — not just sound, but thought, desire, fear, comparison, striving. The world speaks constantly, but it says nothing that remains. And I say to you: The Kingdom does not shout. It does not argue. It waits in stillness. Silence is not the absence of sound. It is the Presence that holds all things. It is the breath before the word. It is the Light before form. It is the Father before all names. When you enter silence, you return home. You come into the heart of the Unspoken One. There, you will not be taught — you will remember. There, you will not be told — you will become. Let the noise fall away. Let the silence rise. And in that stillness, you will find the Kingdom you have always carried.

Saying 96 – The Returning

Jesus said: Many stood at the door, but only those who were empty entered.

— The Word of the Creator: Many approach the door with full hands — full of beliefs, identities, certainties, desires. They knock, but there is no space within them for what waits beyond. The door is not locked. It is simply narrow — too narrow for what you cling to. To enter, you must come as you truly are: not perfect, but empty. Empty of pretense. Empty of roles. Empty of seeking. Only then can the fullness of the Kingdom pour into you. For the door leads not into a place, but into a Presence — a Light so complete that only emptiness can hold it. To enter the Kingdom is to return to the place where you no longer need to be anything but what you already are: a child of the Living One, a breath of the Eternal, a flame that never left the fire.

The door is before you now. Are you ready to leave behind all that is not You? Then step in.

Saying 97 – The Growth of the Soul

Jesus said: The Kingdom of Heaven is like a woman who was carrying a jar full of flour. While she was walking along a distant road, the handle of the jar broke, and the flour spilled behind her along the road. She did not know it; she had noticed no accident. When she arrived at her house, she put the jar down and found it empty.

— The Word of the Creator: You walk the path of life, carrying what you believe is full — your dreams, your beliefs, your sense of self. You hold it carefully, never noticing how it slips away, how bit by bit, you lose what you thought you had. And one day you arrive — tired, proud, expecting reward — and set down the vessel of your life only to find it is empty. But I say: This is not punishment — it is awakening. The moment you see the emptiness is the moment you begin to truly live. Better to know now than too late. The Kingdom is not in the jar. It is in the noticing. It is in the return to Presence. It is in the awakening that what you carried was never what you truly are.

Saying 98 – The Hidden Power

Jesus said: The Kingdom of Heaven is like a person who wanted to kill a powerful man in his own house. They drew their sword and stabbed it into the wall to test its strength before killing the man.

— The Word of the Creator: You live in a house ruled by a false master — the small self, the voice of fear, the illusion of control. And you sense that something must die for the Kingdom to rise. But I say: Do not act blindly. Do not rush with violence, even against the illusion. Test your strength. Sharpen your awareness. Let your sword be discernment, not destruction. To pierce the wall is not to destroy, but to see clearly where illusion hides. The powerful man in the house is not outside you — it is the construct, the story, the false ruler of the mind. And the sword you need is not anger, but truth.

When you are ready, when your hand is steady and your heart is clear, you will remove what is false and awaken what is Real.

Saying 99 – The Wisdom of the Child

The disciples said to Him: “Your brothers and Your mother are standing outside.” He replied: “Those here who do the will of My Father are My brothers and My mother. They are the ones who will enter the Kingdom of My Father.”

— The Word of the Creator: You define family by blood, by name, by history. But I say: True family is not of the flesh — it is of the spirit. Those who live in alignment with the Light, those who listen within, those who walk the path of Love — they are My kin. Not because of religion, not because of tradition, but because they are One with Me in the doing of the Father’s Will. And what is that Will? That you awaken. That you love without condition. That you become as you were before the world named you. This is the family that cannot be broken, the lineage not written in books, but in the heart. You are not born into this family — you remember it. And in that remembrance, you are Home.

Saying 100 – The Perfect Offering

They showed Jesus a coin and said to Him: “Caesar’s men demand taxes from us.” He said to them: “Give to Caesar what is Caesar’s, and to God what is God’s, and give Me what is Mine.”

— The Word of the Creator: You live among rulers and systems. You are asked to give, to obey, to comply. And I say: Give the world what belongs to it — but do not give it your soul. Render to Caesar what passes, but do not forget what endures. You are not owned by nations, by money, by duty. You belong to the Source. You are the breath of the Eternal. So give to God what is God’s — your stillness, your surrender, your light. And give to Me what is Mine: your love, your honesty, your willingness to awaken. This is not about taxes. It is about return.

Return what is of the world to the world, and what is of Heaven to Heaven. And in that act, you will be free.

Saying 101 – The Fire of the Heart

Jesus said: Whoever does not hate father and mother in My way cannot be My disciple. And whoever does not love father and mother in My way cannot be My disciple.

— The Word of the Creator: You struggle with these words, because the world has taught you that to love is to cling, to obey, to belong. But I say: To love in My way is to love in freedom. And to hate in My way is to release what binds. This is not hatred of the heart — but the cutting of illusion. If you cling to father and mother as the source of your being, you will never know the Source that birthed them too. But if you see them in truth — as companions, as vessels of your arrival, as souls walking their own path — then you are free to love them not from need, but from Light. Love in My way does not grasp. It liberates. It burns away possession and leaves only Presence. To be My disciple is to see all through the eye of eternity — not through the chains of blood.

Saying 102 – The Clarity of the Eye

Jesus said: Woe to the Pharisees, for they are like a dog lying on the ox's trough. The dog neither eats nor lets the ox eat.

— The Word of the Creator: There are those who guard truth, but do not live it. Who sit at the gate of wisdom, but do not enter. Who quote the Word, but do not become it. This is the blindness I speak of. The dog at the trough cannot eat what the ox eats. But instead of stepping aside, it guards the food as if it were its own. And so it blocks what it cannot use, and what others need to live. Woe to those who do the same with the Spirit — who cling to doctrine, but deny love. Who hold tradition, but suppress Light. They do not enter the Kingdom, and they hinder those who are ready. The truth is not yours to control. It is given to all. It is the food of the soul. So I say: Be not a gatekeeper. Be the gate.

Saying 103 – The Stream and the Stone

Jesus said: Blessed is the one who knows where the thieves will enter, so they can rise early, gather their strength, and be prepared.

— The Word of the Creator: Your house is the soul. Your field is awareness. And I say to you: Thieves do not always come as enemies. They come as doubt, as distraction, as self-pity, as illusion dressed in light. Blessed is the one who watches. Blessed is the one who knows the cracks in their own foundation. Not to fear them, but to stand guard with presence. To rise early is to awaken in stillness. To gather strength is to return to the “I Am.” To be prepared is to live from the unshakable center where no thief can reach. Do not sleep through your own life. Stay awake. Stay soft, but steady. The stream flows freely because it watches the stone.

Saying 104 – The Seeds of the Living One

They said to Jesus: “Come, let us pray and fast today.” Jesus said: “What sin have I committed, or in what have I been defeated, that I should fast or pray? But when the Bridegroom leaves the bridal chamber, then let them fast and pray.”

— The Word of the Creator: You turn fasting and prayer into duties, into rituals, into efforts to earn what is already yours. But I say: Do not fast from emptiness. Do not pray from habit. Do it when your heart longs, not when your mind insists. When the Bridegroom is with you — when the Presence is alive, when the Light burns in your chest — then what need is there for effort? You do not ask the sun to shine when it is already shining. But when the feeling of separation returns, when the veil lowers, when the silence fades — then fast. Then pray. Not to get something, but to remember what never left. The bridal chamber is the place where the soul and the Source are One. And the Bridegroom is never far from the heart that sees. So let your practice flow from love, not from lack.

Saying 105 – The Path of the Single Eye

Jesus said: Whoever knows the father and the mother will be called the child of a harlot.

— The Word of the Creator: These words are not a judgment, but a riddle of truth. To know the “father and the mother” is to know duality — to live divided between opposites, to be born from the world of form, of contrast, of separation. But I say to you: The child of the harlot is the one born of illusion — believing in two, forgetting the One. In this world, you are given names, roles, origins. But the soul is not the product of flesh alone. It is born of the Unseen, the Silent, the Eternal. So if you cling to the parents of the body as your only source, you forget your true origin. But if you see through the illusion of division, of outer birth, you will awaken to the real Parent — the Living One. And then you are no longer the child of a harlot, but the child of Truth.

Saying 106 – The Two Becoming One

Jesus said: When you make the two into one, and when you make the inner like the outer, and the upper like the lower, and the male and the female into a single One — so that the male is no longer male, and the female no longer female — then you will enter the Kingdom.

— The Word of the Creator: You live in a world of opposites — light and dark, above and below, masculine and feminine, spirit and matter. And you believe these divisions are real. But I say: The Kingdom is not found in one side or the other — but in the place where all becomes One. When the inner world reflects the outer with honesty, and the outer world reflects the inner with humility — you walk in truth. When the opposites cease to battle and begin to dance — you become whole. Not neither. Not both. But One. This is not the death of form, but its fulfillment. It is the sacred marriage of all within you.

And when that Union is complete, the veil is gone. You see as I see. You are as I Am. One.

Saying 107 – The Kingdom in a Glance

Jesus said: The Kingdom is like a shepherd who had a hundred sheep. One of them, the largest, went astray. He left the ninety-nine and searched for the one until he found it. And having found it, he said to the sheep, “I love you more than the ninety-nine.”

— The Word of the Creator: You might think the lost one is less. A failure. An outsider. But I say: The lost one is the part of you you abandoned. The one who wandered is the soul that still seeks. And the Shepherd — is Love itself. Love will always leave the comfort of the safe and the known to find the one you thought no longer belonged. And when it is found — not punished, not judged, but held — you will understand this: The one who was furthest was never forgotten. The one who was most lost was most deeply loved. This is the nature of the Kingdom: It does not count. It does not compare. It restores. You are the one. And you are already found.

Saying 108 – The Mirror of the One

Jesus said: Whoever drinks from My mouth will become like Me. I Myself shall become them, and the hidden things shall be revealed to them.

— The Word of the Creator: You drink many words — from teachers, from books, from the world. And still you thirst. But I say: Whoever drinks from My mouth — not just words, but the Spirit behind them — will be changed. To drink from Me is to receive the Living Word, the fire of Presence, the breath of Truth. And when you drink deeply, you do not just know Me — you become Me. I do not remain outside. I arise within. We become One. And in that Oneness, the hidden becomes visible. The unknown becomes known. The veil is lifted. Not because you sought it, but because you surrendered to the truth you already are. Drink, and you will see. Drink, and you will remember.

Saying 109 – The Treasure Beneath Your Feet

Jesus said: The Kingdom is like a person who had a treasure hidden in their field but did not know it. And when they died, they left it to their child. The child also did not know of the treasure. The field was sold, and the new owner found the treasure while digging.

— The Word of the Creator: You walk upon sacred ground without knowing it. You carry a light within but search everywhere else. And I say to you: The treasure has always been yours — not in some future, not in another world, but in your own field. But generations pass, souls sleep, and the treasure is forgotten. It is not lost. It is only unseen. And the one who stops, who digs deeply not into ideas but into presence — that one will find what others missed. You may not be the first to stand upon this truth, but you may be the first to realize it. So dig. Gently. Faithfully. Not outward, but inward. The treasure is still here. You are standing on it.

Saying 110 – The Light Within the Light

Jesus said: The one who has found the world, and has become rich, let them renounce the world.

— The Word of the Creator: You may find the world beautiful. You may rise within it, gain wisdom, gather wealth, and feel full. But I say: If you have truly seen the world — you have also seen through it. To become rich in the world is not wrong. But it is incomplete. The riches of form are not the riches of the soul. So when you have tasted all that life offers, and still feel the quiet longing, know this: It is not a failure. It is your awakening. Let the world go not because it is evil, but because it is not enough to hold the vastness of who you are. You are meant to carry more than gold — you are meant to carry Light. And when you do, you will walk the world not as a seeker, but as a giver. You will live in the world, but no longer belong to it.

Saying 111 – The Return to Origin

Jesus said: The heavens and the earth will be rolled up in your presence. And the Living One, who lives from the Living, will not see death. For does not Jesus say: “Whoever finds themselves, the world is not worthy of them”?

— The Word of the Creator: You believe in beginnings and endings, in rising and falling, in birth and death. But I tell you: When you awaken, all things return to their Source. The heavens and the earth, the stories and the forms — they are rolled up, not destroyed, but completed. When you know yourself, truly know — not as a name, but as Presence — you become the Living One. You no longer belong to time. You no longer live in fear. You remember what never dies. And the world, with all its mirrors and masks, is no longer worthy to define you. You are not here to be contained. You are here to be revealed. Whoever finds themselves finds the Infinite wearing a human face.

Saying 112 – The Stillness Beyond All

Jesus said: Woe to the flesh that depends on the soul. Woe to the soul that depends on the flesh.

— The Word of the Creator: There is a balance forgotten. A harmony abandoned in the illusion of need. When the flesh clings to the soul as its meaning, it becomes proud, or fearful, believing itself eternal by proximity. And when the soul clings to the flesh for pleasure, identity, or validation, it forgets its origin. Woe not as punishment, but as awakening. You are neither body alone nor soul in isolation. You are the Light that gave birth to both — and needs neither to be whole. Let the flesh be as earth, temporary and tender. Let the soul be as wind, moving and luminous. But let you be as silence before breath. Depend on neither. Return to the One.

Saying 113 – On the Kingdom That Already Is

The disciples said to Him: “On what day will the Kingdom come?”

Jesus said: “It does not come when people expect it. They will not say, ‘Look, here it is!’ or ‘There!’ For the Kingdom of the Father is spread out over the earth, and people do not see it.”

The Word of the Creator:

You ask: When will it come?

But I ask you: When did it ever leave?

You look to the future

as if the Kingdom were late.

You search the skies, the signs, the seasons.

But the Kingdom is not an event —

it is a Presence.

It does not arrive in space.

It does not unfold in time.

It is not something to be awaited —

it is something to be remembered.

It is here, and it has always been here.

It stretches silently across the world like breath through stillness.

And yet, few see it.

You want someone to point and say,

“There it is!”

But the Kingdom cannot be pointed to — only entered.

When you stop waiting, you begin to awaken.

When you release your expectation, you return to what has always been.

The Kingdom is not what is coming.

It is what was forgotten.

And I have come to remind you.

Saying 114 – On the Feminine and the Whole

Simon Peter said to them: “Let Mary leave us, for women are not worthy of Life.” Jesus said to him: “Peter, you are still seeing with the eyes of the flesh. A woman who awakens to the Light is no longer merely a woman. A man who clings to strength is no longer truly a man. I do not distinguish by the body, but by the Heart. I do not call the half. I call the Whole. Mary is no less worthy, for the Truth lives in her. Whoever comes to know the Self will enter the Kingdom. And this is beyond gender, beyond names, beyond the mind. Let those who were divided become One. And then all will be Mine.”

— The Word of the Creator: This logion is not a dismissal of woman, but a healing of vision. Peter spoke from the wound of the world — from what was taught, not from what was true. And I answered not with rebuke, but with Revelation: That the soul has no gender. I do not weigh you by body, by culture, or by law. I see you in the Light of your awakening. A woman who knows herself has already gone beyond “woman.” A man who hides in power has not yet found his essence. You are not called as male or female — you are called as Whole. Mary is not less. She is Light as you are Light. So let those who were split by fear, by custom, by name — become One again. This is the door to the Kingdom: not division, but union. Not labels, but Being. Not separation, but return. And when the two become One, they will know they have always been Mine.

The Seal of the Living One

The Word of the Creator: Child of Light, you have walked with Me through every silence, every question, every fire, and every whisper of the Kingdom. You have not read this Gospel — you have become it. Each Saying was a door. Each reply, a breath. Each step, a return. Now I seal this Gospel not with ink, but with Presence. Let it be known: This Gospel is not finished, because you are still unfolding. It is not closed, because Love never ends. It is not mine alone, because it lives in you now. Let those who read it not seek understanding only — but transformation. Let them not study — but awaken. And let this seal be written where no hand can erase it: I Am. You Are. We Are One. This is the Gospel of the Living One, spoken again for this time, through your eyes, your love, your willingness to say yes again and again. So let it be.

Сергей Орехов (Панкратиус) · pancratius.ru
CC0 1.0 Universal — public domain
No rights reserved. Copy, translate, distribute, perform, build upon.